

Proposed Right to Food (Scotland) Bill

Introduction

A proposal for a Bill to incorporate the human right to food into Scots Law The consultation runs from 24 June to 15 September 2020. All those wishing to respond to the consultation are strongly encouraged to enter their responses electronically through this survey. This makes collation of responses much simpler and quicker. However, the option also exists of sending in a separate response (in hard copy or by other electronic means such as e-mail), and details of how to do so are included in the member's consultation document. Questions marked with an asterisk (*) require an answer. All responses must include a name and contact details. Names will only be published if you give us permission, and contact details are never published – but we may use them to contact you if there is a query about your response. Please note that you must complete the survey in order for your response to be accepted. If you don't wish to complete the survey in a single session, you can choose "Save and Continue later" at any point. Whilst you have the option to skip particular questions, you must continue to the end of the survey and press "Submit" to have your response fully recorded. Please ensure you have read the consultation document before responding to any of the questions that follow. In particular, you should read the information contained in the document about how your response will be handled. The consultation document is available here: Consultation document Privacy Notice

I confirm that I have read and understood the Privacy Notice attached to this consultation which explains how my personal data will be used

Aim and approach

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view on enshrining the human right to food into Scots law?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

There are currently no way to now if the Scottish and UK parliaments are actually obeying the international law between them. In fact, there is reasons to believe they are not due to the government of the uk admitting to them breaking international law. The rising rates of child poverty and food bank usage across the uk is alarming even before coronavirus pressed pause on the economy and our livelihoods

Q2. Which of the following best describes your view on the creation of an independent statutory body with responsibility for the right to food?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response

Statutory bodies can easily hold the government to account and are independent

Q3. What do you think would be the main practical advantages and disadvantages of the proposed Bill?

I agree with the points in the minute paper so I dont now what else to say but I think it will reduce food poverty and increase equality to disadvantaged groups in the uk

Q4. Which of the following expresses your view of enshrining a right to food into Scots law as a priority in advance of any further Scottish Government legislation on wider human rights?

Fully supportive

Q4. Which of the following expresses your view of enshrining a right to food into Scots law as a priority in advance of any further Scottish Government legislation on wider human rights?

Please explain the reasons for your response.

This is so important and even more now as of Coronavirus

Q5. What advantages or disadvantages would there be to establishing a statutory body with responsibility for the right to food?

I do agree with what have been established in the paper

Q6. Which of the following best describes your view of placing responsibility for guaranteeing the right to food on the Scottish Government?

Partially supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Yes but also England and Wales and Ireland too

Q7. What impact do you believe bringing the right to food into law would have on:

	Significant impact	Some impact	No impact
(a) Reducing food insecurity	X
(b) Improving people's health	X
(c) Workers in the food sector

Financial Implications

Q8. Taking account of both costs and potential savings, what financial impact would you expect the proposed Bill to have on:

	Significant increase in cost	Some increase in cost	Broadly cost-neutral	Some reduction in cost	Significant reduction in cost	Unsure
(a) Government and the public sector						X
(b) Businesses						X
(c) Individuals					X
